

ENGL1102

Student: Ms. Charlotte Byram

Teacher: Dr. Mary Anne O'Neal

Q: Who am I?

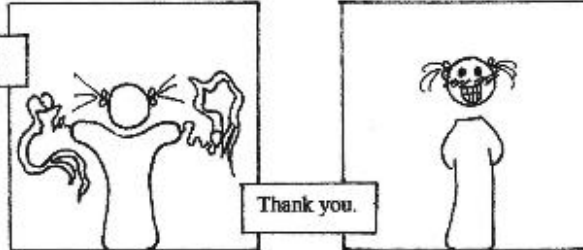

A: Oh, my. How to answer? Contrary to general answers, I am not easily understood by only where I have been, the activities in which I have participated, or even where I am going. Who I am involves something more... something involving my design, my essence. I am... hmmm. To answer this question I think I may need a little assistance.

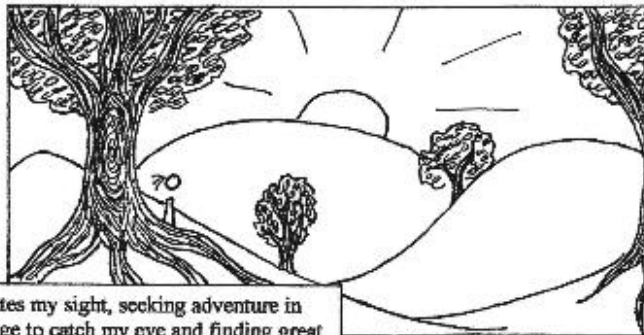

Poi is my personality: exotic, rhythmic, surprising, and a spontaneous dance with a juggling flair; something that causes one to double-take and exclaim, "What was that!"

AHEM!

My tongue is turned by languages and delights in each delicious sound.

Exploration dominates my sight, seeking adventure in the slightest challenge to catch my eye and finding great satisfaction in discovery.

I am a story.

I am pen and paper.

I am infinite possibilities.

Bye